

AA Portable Power Corp / dba BatterySpace.com Privacy Policy - Updated on December 1st, 2024

At BatterySpace.com, we take your privacy seriously. Please read the following to understand how we handle your personal information. We will not sell or rent your information to others in ways different from what is disclosed in this statement. BatterySpace.com collects information from users at several different points on our website.

Signing up

When you sign up, we collect contact information such as your name, address, phone number and email address. Your email address is used to uniquely identify you and provide access to your account, as well as to track your orders. We may use your contact information to send you newsletters, sales alerts, and special offers. You may opt-out of these communications at any time.

Placing an Order

To place an order, you may create an account with BatterySpace.com or check out as a guest. We collect contact information (like name, phone number and shipping address) and financial information (like credit card details). This information is used for billing and to fulfill your order. We may also contact you if we encounter issues processing your order or to provide status updates. During checkout, you will have the option to join our mailing list for additional offers, but you may opt-out if you do not wish to receive these communications.

Sharing Information

We share your information with third parties in specific instances:

- Reviews: We may share your name and email address with third-party companies to collect reviews about our products or services.
- Shipping: We share your name and shipping information with shipping companies to ensure the timely delivery of your orders.

Tell-a-Friend

If you use our referral service to inform a friend about our site, we will collect their email address and send a one-time invitation email. This information is stored solely to send the email and track the success of the referral program. Your friend may contact us (sales@batteryspace.com) to request removal of their information.

Cookies

Cookies are a mechanism to remember information about a visitor from one page to another. Web browsers store cookies so that the browser itself can remember some information and then, on request, pass all that information up to the server at one time. We use cookies to remember your name and the contents of your shopping cart. This allows you to leave our site, come back later, and still have the contents of your shopping cart intact. It also lets us personalize your experience at BatterySpace.com, tailoring the content to your interests. Our website requires the use of cookies. Turning off cookies or rejecting the BatterySpace.com cookie will limit your experience with our website. We do not link the information we store in cookies to any personally identifiable information you submit while on our site.

IP Address

We collect IP addresses to analyze trends, administer the website, and gather demographic information for internal use. This data is not linked to personally identifiable information and is not shared with third parties.

Links

This web site contains links to other sites. Please be aware that we BatterySpace.com is not responsible for the privacy practices of such other sites.

Third-Party Relationships

We work with third parties to process payments and ship orders. Your payment information is sent to credit card companies for verification, and your name and shipping details are shared with shipping providers to deliver your order. We do not sell or rent your personal information to third parties.

Occasionally, BatterySpace.com may send you offers on behalf of third-party partners. If you choose to accept these offers, you will provide your information directly to the partner, and their privacy policies will govern how your information is used. We do not share your information with these partners directly.

Choice/Opt-out

You can opt-out of receiving marketing emails and other communications by following the unsubscribe instructions in our emails or by contacting us directly at sales@batteryspace.com.

Security

We take measures to protect your personal information during transmission by using encryption technology (Secure Socket Layer). Additionally, your personal information is stored on secure servers with restricted access, and our employees are trained to protect your data. If you have any security concerns, please contact us.

Notification of Changes

If we change our privacy policy, we will post a notice on our homepage. In case of significant changes, we will notify you via email or post a prominent notice on our website 30 days prior to the changes. You will have the opportunity to decide if you want your information used differently.

Legal Disclaimer

We may disclose personal information when required by law or in the good-faith belief that such action is necessary in order to conform to the edicts of the law or to comply with a legal process served on our Web site.
